HISTORICAL STATEMENT.

The Illinois College of Law was organized and incorporated in the year 1897, as an independent College, and for fifteen years maintained an independent existence without university connection.

The College was established by well educated and studious lawyers for the purpose of raising the standards of legal education and preparation for the Bar in the City of Chicago. The College has at all times maintained the highest standards for its degrees and honors and the work of instruction has been carried on by a faculty whose members have been distinguished for scholarship and ability as teachers of the law.

A complete three years' course of study in evening classes was established by the Illinois College of Law in 1897, and has been carried on continuously with increasing attendance from year to year, as the Evening Division of the College.

In 1912 the Illinois College of Law affiliated with De Paul University and became the Law Department of De Paul University, moving its library and day classes to the University Building, 2201 Osgood street. The evening classes were continued in the downtown district, at 207 South Wabash avenue. The rapid growth of the evening law classes, under University supervision, soon made it necessary to seek larger quarters, and likewise demonstrated the advisability of centralizing other departments of the University in the downtown district. Beginning with the summer of 1915, therefore, both the day and evening law classes, together with certain other departments of the University, will be located in the Tower Building, Michigan avenue and Madison street.

De Paul University Law School is, therefore, one of the oldest and most useful in the public service of the law schools of Chicago, and has always maintained the highest standards of teaching ability in its Faculty, the best methods for class instruction, and the highest standards of proficiency and attainments for its graduates.

The Faculty of the School, after the adoption of Rule 39, by the Supreme Court of Illinois, agreed upon the policy of graduating no student with the degree of Bachelor of Laws unless his attainments and scholarship were such that in the opinion of his instructors he could easily pass the State examinations for admission to the Bar. What benefit is it to the Law School or to the student to placard a student with diplomas and degrees who is unfit to pass the first test—the very entrance gate to his profession?

It has been stated many times and is believed to be strictly true and correct, that in comparison with the degree graduates of all other law schools in Chicago or the State of Illinois:

1. The highest percentage of successful candidates in the State Bar Examinations of Illinois is found among the graduates of this Law School taking such examinations, and
2. That a higher percentage of all students graduated with degrees by this Law School have taken these examinations and are now engaged in the active practice of their profession.

LOCATION.

The Law School is located in the Tower Building, Michigan avenue and Madison street. This magnificent fireproof building is in an admirable location for a law school, being right in the center of the business district and within a few blocks of the City, State, and Federal Courts. On the other hand, it is of easy access from all parts of the city.

UNIVERSITY BUILDINGS AND CAMPUS.

De Paul University Campus is located in an agreeable, quiet residence neighborhood on the North Side of Chicago. The University Buildings and Campus occupy the entire block bounded by Webster and Belden avenues, Sheffield avenue and Osgood street.

THE COLLEGE BUILDING is a fireproof structure of Bedford cut stone, six stories in height, covering an area of 68x180 feet. It contains the lecture halls, study rooms, laboratories, museums, etc., of the Literary Departments. There is a large gymnasium on the top floor. All the lecture rooms are spacious and well lighted. The building is supplied with an elevator and also with the most approved appliances for heating, lighting and ventilation.

THE ADMINISTRATION BUILDING, 1010 Webster avenue, occupies a ground space of 120x80 feet, and is five stories in height. The building contains the public offices of the University, library and reception rooms.

THE LYCEUM, 2231 Sheffield avenue, is a two-story building, 110 feet in length by 55 feet in width. It contains thirty rooms, all well lighted and comfortable. All students of the University and the Law School are encouraged to become members of the Lyceum Association and enjoy the advantages afforded by its parlors, reception and reading rooms.

THE UNIVERSITY AUDITORIUM OR COLLEGE THEATER, with a ground space of 125 x 113 feet, and a seating capacity of 1,500, is one of the largest and most beautiful auditoriums in the city of Chicago. It is a fireproof building, provided with twenty exits, and wide, divergent aisles. This building is devoted to the entertainments and dramatic productions given by the students of the University, graduation exercises, oratorical contests, public lectures and debates, addresses by distinguished visitors of the University, assemblies, etc.

THE UNIVERSITY CAMPUS is a rectangular field enclosed by a high composition-stone wall. It affords ample room for regulation football contests, baseball and all outdoor athletic sports. Alongside the campus is a large grandstand capable of seating seven thousand or more spectators.

THE UNIVERSITY GYMNASIUM is a large hall, 68 x 180 feet, fully equipped with modern apparatus for exercise and indoor games. Law students of the University are encouraged to make full use of all athletic facilities.

THE LAW LIBRARY.

The Law College maintains its own library and reading rooms, open to students and Alumni from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. The Library is designed especially to obviate extensive purchases by students of books required for collateral reading and the reports of selected cases assigned for class study. The Law Library now contains over three thousand bound volumes, embracing the United States Supreme Court Reports, the Federal Decisions, the Illinois Reports, the Federal and Illinois Statutes Annotated, sets of all principal Encyclopediae, American Digest, most of the Reporter System, American Decisions, American Reports, American State Reports, Lawyers' Reports Annotated, and a large list of the latest text books.

SPECIAL ADVANTAGES.

This Law School has many advantages by reason of its location in a large city having extensive commercial interests. Law students have here unsurpassed opportunities for observing the work of the courts in all kinds of litigation. The following courts hold regular sessions in Chicago: United States Circuit Court of Appeals; two branches of the United States District Court, Northern District of Illinois; four branches of the Illinois Appellate Court; twenty judges sitting in law or chancery in the Circuit Court of Cook County; eighteen judges sitting in law or chancery in the Superior Court of Cook County; six or more judges chosen alternately from the Circuit and Superior Courts sitting in the Criminal Court of Cook County; two or more judges sitting in the County Court of Cook County; a Probate Court with one judge and several assistants; a Juvenile Court; thirty-one Municipal Court judges.

The Bar of Chicago now numbers six thousand members. It is here practicable for many law students to connect themselves with the offices of the ablest and most active lawyers of the city, where they may quickly familiarize themselves with the practical details of litigation and the actual conduct of business. The Secretary will assist competent students to make such connections.

To a young man who has been brought up in the country, or in a country town, the city is in itself an education. Here he is brought in contact with a life which is new to him. His ideas of business are enlarged. He sees undertakings involving millions of dollars entered upon and carried to completion as common events of everyday life. He finds people in relations, social, political, commercial, in which he has never before thought of them. As a result of his new environment he is daily accumulating valuable information and experiences which will lead him to a better understanding of business and social relations, thereby broadening his horizon and enabling him to comprehend more readily the larger issues of human life and endeavor.

The climate of Chicago is favorable to intellectual exertion all the year around, as the extreme heat of the summer months is much tempered by the breezes from Lake Michigan. The student from outside the city spending his first year here may find frequent opportunities for delightful excursions, visiting the different lake ports.

The city of Chicago is noted for the number and excellence of its schools and colleges for professional education, and for its extensive libraries, art galleries, museums, and like institutions for popular recreation and instruction. This city has become especially attractive as a place for student residence.

METHODS OF INSTRUCTION.

In the Day Division instruction is given mainly by the study of standard case books. The cases are studied, analyzed, compared and discussed before the class.

In the Evening Division instruction is given in most courses by the study of standard text books, exposition of the same by instructor, with recitations, supplemented by the study of assigned cases. Some subjects are given entirely by lecture or by study of cases. A sufficient number of the courses are taught by the use of standard case books to secure to the student all the disciplinary value of that method of study.

The student is taught to discriminate the material facts from the immaterial, the ultimate facts from the evidentiary, and to deduce correct principles; not only to know the law, but the "reason of the law" and to think as a lawyer.

The members of the Faculty have generally had experience in active practice, and are thus well qualified to give invaluable practical suggestions while teaching the theory of law. In fact, all instructors in procedure courses are engaged in active practice at the Chicago Bar.

The curriculum covers every subject and branch of public and private law, and is designed to prepare the student for admission to the Bar of any State. The suggested program of studies below given includes every subject specified in Rule 39 of the Illinois Supreme Court. Students completing this suggested course of study will have had instruction upon the leading common law cases in all of the subjects required for the Bar examinations in this State, and will not be obliged to study and prepare especially for this examination on subjects not taken in their law school course.

A Moot Court sits weekly, where assigned cases are heard and submitted upon oral arguments and written briefs.

Free instruction is given in Public Speaking and Debating.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION.

Students may enter at the beginning of any quarter. The applicant must be eighteen years of age and of good moral character. The Law School is open to both men and women.

A student entering as a candidate for a degree must furnish satisfactory credentials showing that the applicant is either (1) a degree graduate of a standard American college, or (2) a graduate of an approved high school, or (3) has passed successfully the entrance examinations for De Paul University or some other standard American college or university, or (4) must pass a special entrance examination at this university on the subjects required to constitute the equivalent of a four years' High School Course.

Persons otherwise qualified who have not attained the preliminary high school education required may be admitted as special students, not candidates for a degree.

Students desiring to be admitted to advanced standing must produce certificates from other law schools or colleges showing that they have pursued courses of legal study equivalent to those prescribed in the curriculum of this College.

Examinations passed elsewhere are accepted as equivalent to examinations in the same subjects here for purposes of admission only, not for graduation. Examinations of candidates for advanced standing will be held during the first week of each quarter. No candidate will be examined until after matriculation.

MATRICULATION AND REGISTRATION.

The applicant fills out in his own handwriting the usual matriculation sheet, giving full information as to academic education, and if seeking admission on diploma or certificate exhibits the same to the Dean of the Law Faculty.

The applicant should obtain the advice and approval of the Dean as to the courses selected, and fill out his course card accordingly. He will take his course card to the Registrar and obtain the Registrar's receipt for the tuition fees for the quarter. The Registrar thereupon issues to the student a class card for each course selected to be delivered to the professor in charge of the class.

The professor in charge of the class is required to endorse upon the class card the grades obtained by the student in that course. In ascertaining the student's standing in the course the professor gives credit (1) for attendance upon class exercises, (2) the recitation and review examination grade, and (3) the final examination grade, and these three determine the average grade of the student for that course.

The average grade must not be less than 75 per cent on a scale of 100 to entitle the student to credit for the course toward a degree.

The time of study prescribed by the rule for admission to the Bar examinations in Illinois and other states is counted from the day of registration, and no credit for time will be given until formal registration has been made as required by the rules of the Law College.

No credit will be given for class attendance, nor will the student's name be enrolled by the professor in charge as a member of the class until presentation of the course card, signed by the Registrar, entitling the student to attend the course.

SPECIAL STUDENTS.

Students are classed as (1) Special, not candidates for a degree, and (2) Regular, admitted on examination or diplomas as candidates for a degree.

A Special student is one who is admitted to one or more courses without being required to pass the entrance examinations. He must, however, satisfy the Dean of the Faculty that he possesses such academic education as will enable him to make profitable use of the opportunities offered by the College. The privileges extended to special students are designed especially for those who entered into business life before completing their high school course, yet are nevertheless well qualified by age, character, practical experience and mental habits to undertake the study of law.

Special Students are subject to the same regulations as Regular students. The system of courses of instruction established and in use in this College offers unsurpassed opportunities for members of the Bar and persons wishing a knowledge of legal principles for commercial or cultural purposes to study special subjects. Persons engaged in mercantile pursuits will find it advantageous to take up those studies which are most closely related to their work, as Contracts, Agency, Partnerships, Sales, Corporations, and Commercial Paper. Some knowledge of these subjects is indispensable to business men of this generation. Certificates will be granted for all work done.

A two years' course of study designed especially for non-professional students leads to a Diploma of Graduation in Commercial Law. It is invaluable as a means of general culture, and as a special preparation for leadership in public life, or for business, educational or literary pursuits.

PRE-LEGAL COURSES.

Deficiencies in entrance requirements may be made up by special courses taken in the Academy of the University. The University also opens to law students many of its courses in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences which are of special value in the cultural education of the lawyer. While the University does not as yet require the completion of Academic College courses for admission to the Law College, law students are strongly advised to pursue a year or more of such study for cultural purposes before entering upon or contemporaneously with their work in the Law College.

The following Pre-Legal courses offered by the University are particularly recommended to law students:

Principles of Political Economy, Rhetoric and English Composition, English Language and Literature, Argumentative and Oratorical Composition, Philology of the English Language, Courses in the Latin Language and Literature, Constitutional and Political History of the United States, Constitutional and Political History of England, Philosophy of History, Roman and Greek Oratory, Logic, Ethics, Psychology, History of Philosophy, Sociology.

THE QUARTER SYSTEM.

The University year is divided into three quarters, designated as the Autumn, Winter and Spring Quarters, of twelve weeks each, constituting the Regular Session; and a Summer Session or Summer Quarter ending near the middle of August, thus giving a short recess between the close of the Summer School and the beginning of the Regular Session, near the middle of September. The Law College is thus open practically all the year, and students may enter at the beginning of any quarter and pursue their studies continuously until graduation without repetition of former work. Three Quarters count as the University year and it is possible to complete the full three year law course in nine consecutive quarters, or two and one-fourth calendar years.

COURSES OF INSTRUCTION.

The courses of instruction in the several subjects generally conclude with the end of the University Quarter and a final examination is held at that time upon the work of the course.

While Rule 39 of the Illinois Supreme Court, governing admissions to the Bar, requires but ten hours' class work each week, twelve hours of class work and practical exercises each week for three years is the minimum requirement of this School, and within the limits of this requirement the School offers the strongest possible program of studies. Every subject required for admission to the Bar is included, and the work of instruction carefully limited to the essential principles of each subject. All undergraduate students are required to be regular in their attendance at the class sessions, lectures, and practice court of the school.

In the Evening Division all class sessions are held on three evenings (Monday, Wednesday and Friday) of each week, from 6:30 p. m. to 10:30 p. m., so that the student may have the alternate evenings without interruption for study and preparation at home or in the libraries.

In the Day Division the work is conducted wholly in the morning—from 9 a. m. to 12 m. This arrangement enables students to attend all their classes, yet leaves them at liberty during the remainder of the day to prepare their lessons. This is especially advantageous to the student who wishes to be self-supporting, as he can secure employment in many lines which will not conflict with his class-room work.

The courses in all subjects are classified either as majors (MM.) or as minors (M.); a major (MM.) course consisting of four hours class-room work a week throughout one quarter, and a minor (M.) course of two hours class-room work a week throughout one quarter. A half minor ($\frac{1}{2}$ M.) consists of two hours a week of class-room work for six weeks, or one hour a week for a full quarter. A double minor (2M.) consists of two hours a week of class-room work throughout two quarters, and a triple minor (3M.) of two hours class-room work throughout three quarters. A schedule of class sessions for the courses offered will be posted at the opening of each quarter.

College, thus enabling them to obtain both the academic and the professional law degree in six years. No degree in law will be conferred upon any student markedly deficient in English, and no student may receive both an academic and a professional degree or both a higher and lower professional degree in the same quarter.

LAW DEGREES AND DIPLOMAS.

The regular courses of instruction lead to the degrees of Bachelor of Laws (LL. B.) and Doctor of Law (J. D.).

A diploma will be awarded to special students who complete two years of study in Commercial Law subjects, e. g., Contracts, Negotiable Paper, Property, Agency, Partnership, Corporations, etc.

A certificate of time, which will admit to the State Bar examinations, will be given to all students taking not less than ten hours of class-room work each week.

Degree of Doctor of Civil Law (D.C.L.).

The degree of Doctor of Civil Law will be granted for the satisfactory completion of courses aggregating one or more years study after having received the degrees of A. B. and LL. M. from this University or from some other school requiring an equivalent course of study for these degrees.

ADMISSION TO THE BAR.

The Illinois examinations for admission to the Bar are conducted by the State Board of Law Examiners, appointed by the Supreme Court, pursuant to Rule 39, adopted November 4, 1897.

Printed forms of application approved by the Board may be had at the office of the Law School.

TUITION FEES AND CHARGES.

All fees are due and payable in advance.

1. A matriculation fee of $5.00 is paid by every student entering the University for the first time.

2. In the Day Division the annual tuition fee in the Regular Course for a degree is $105.00, payable in three installments of $35.00 each at the beginning of each quarter. A discount of $10.00 is allowed to those who pay the tuition for the entire year before October 1st. For special students, and for regular students taking more than the prescribed number of hours per week, the tuition fee is $12.00 per quarter for each major (MM.) course, and $6.00 per quarter for each minor (M.) course taken.

3. In the Evening Division the annual tuition fee in the Regular Course for a degree is $75.00, payable in three installments of $25.00 each at the beginning of each quarter. A discount of $10.00 is allowed to those who pay the tuition for the entire year before October 1st. Students may also arrange to pay the tuition in eight monthly installments of $10.00 each.

For special students the tuition fee is $10.00 per quarter for each major (MM.) course, and $5.00 per quarter for each minor (M.) course taken.

4. No fees will be refunded, but students who are prevented from attending their classes by reason of illness or other good cause, may attend the same courses in any subsequent quarters without charge.

5. The fee for a Special Examination in a major course is $3.00; in a minor course $2.00.

6. A Diploma fee of $10.00 is charged by the University to all receiving a degree.

SCHOLARSHIPS.

A small number of scholarships, each yielding a portion of the tuition fees for the year (three quarters), are awarded annually to meritorious students in the Law College needing such assistance, in return for service in the Law Library. A preference is given to students of high rank. Scholarships for the Summer Quarter only are awarded upon like conditions. All applications for scholarships must be accompanied by statements regarding the age, education, occupation, scholarship, and other qualifications of the applicant, made in writing to the Dean.

SELF-HELP FOR STUDENTS.

A considerable number of students manage in various ways to earn a portion or all of their expenses while in the University. The arrangement of the work of the Day Division in the morning hours only and of the Evening Division in the evening hours only makes it possible for them to do this without conflicting with class-room work. The needs of a large city afford many opportunities for self-help. A student employment bureau makes systematic efforts to obtain positions for students desiring work.

All inquiries regarding self-help for students should be addressed to the Secretary, 705 Tower Building, Chicago.

PRIVILEGES.

Students in the Law College are entitled to all the privileges of the University. Especial attention is called to the course in Public Speaking and Debating offered by the University, which is open to Law Students, without extra fee.

There is no additional charge (except a locker fee) for the use of the Gymnasium or the Athletic Field.

Law students may become members of the Lyceum Association upon the same terms as other students.

STUDENTS' CLUBS.

A large number of clubs and organizations formed by the students of the Law College are in a flourishing condition and continue throughout the year. The principal societies are the De Paul Literary and Debating Society; the Webster Debating Society; the Lincoln Debating Society; the Oratorical Association, and the two law fraternities, Phi Alpha Delta and Delta Theta Phi.
